

Clarotech's Managed Endpoint Service helps to keep staff both productive and secure on all the devices they use, from desktops and notebooks through to tablets and smartphones

Tracking, managing and protecting your endpoints from procurement to retirement

The task of managing IT assets becomes far more challenging as a business expands beyond a handful of desktops and notebooks. This is further complicated by adding other endpoints such as tablets and smartphones to the mix.

By partnering with Clarotech, the tracking of endpoints from procurement through to retirement is taken care of in a systematic and professional manner. From keeping antivirus protection up to date through to ensuring the latest operating system and application patches are installed. Effective endpoint management ensures business endpoint devices operate reliably and remain secure so that staff stay productive.
